MR. M. HENRY McINERNEY

HEAD MASTER'S MESSAGE

On January 20, 1961, the youngest man to be elected by the people as President of the United States of America took office at Washington D. C. President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, former Congressman from Greater Boston and former United States Senator from Massachusetts, is the first native of the Bay State, since the early days of our republic, to become President.

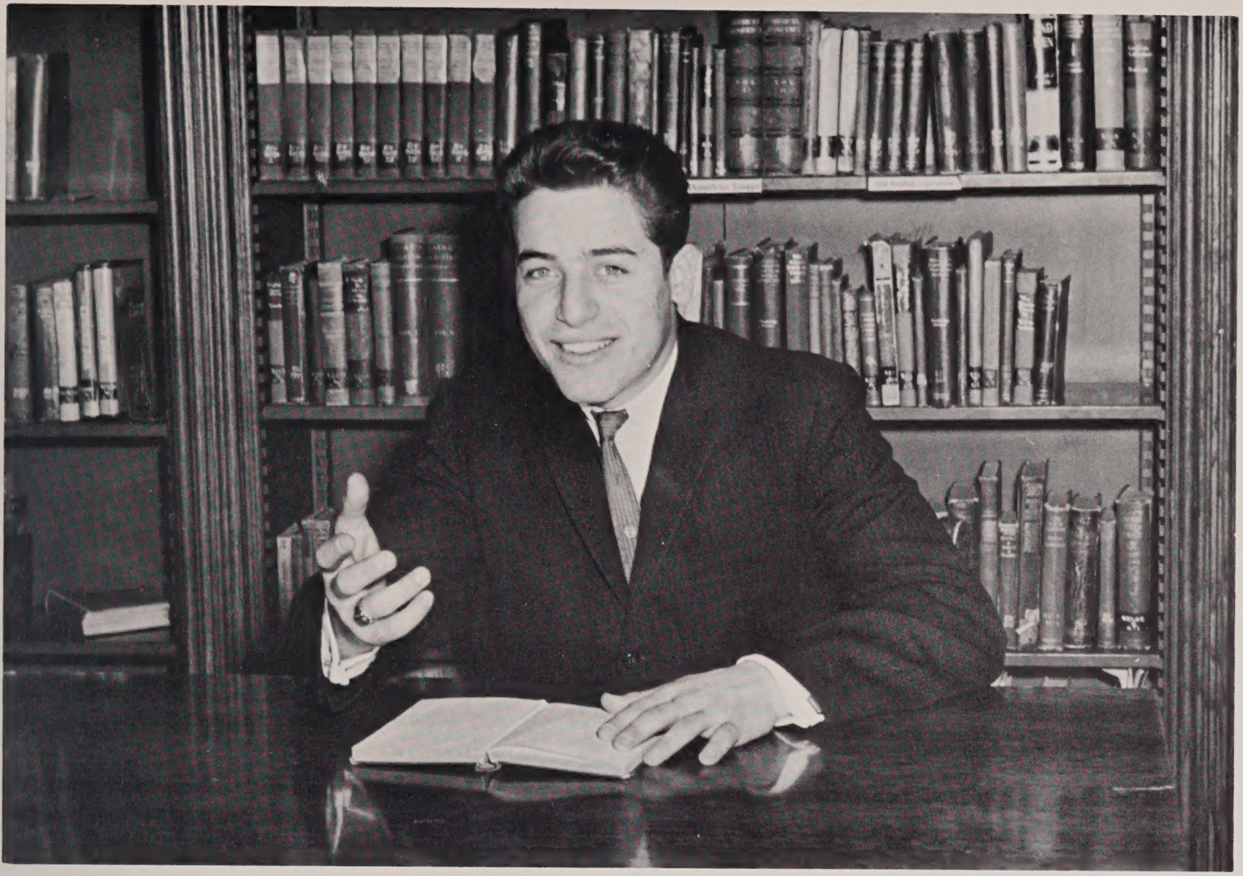
In 1946 Mr. Kennedy was sent to Washington by the Congressional district which includes Ward 22, Brighton. In 1952 he was elected to the United States Senate by the voters of the Commonwealth. Obviously people in Brighton have a special share in the victory which made him leader of our nation.

In 1952 Congressman Kennedy appeared at Brighton High School for our Memorial Day Exercises. A casualty of our Naval operations during World War II, and a decorated combat hero, the fact that he was supported by crutches did not deter him from keeping his engagement to address our student body and faculty.

Nine years have witnessed great achievements by our illustrious leader. Those who shook his hand here little realized they were saluting a future President. He was young then; he is still considered a young man.

Our graduates this year are young men and women. The next ten years will bring great changes in their lives. Brighton High School has assisted them during an important period in their youth. As years roll on, they will be more and more on their own.

The challenge that lies before our graduates will be great; but youth has been able to meet the challenge of each generation. Discouragement and setbacks may come from time to time, but perseverance can overcome great obstacles. Young people have a great example to follow in the career of President Kennedy. The qualities that brought him to the Presidency can bring to our graduates success in whatever career they follow.



ALFRED PELLEGRINI

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

There are times in our lives when the past and the future seem to blend with the present. Graduation is such a time. We look back; we look ahead. The present, while important, seems but a bridge linking the past and future.

The past, three years of study, work and growth, has been without neither purpose nor result. It is easy to say that we came to Brighton High School to learn. We expected to learn, but we found that all learning does not come from books. We found that learning also includes the business of maturing, of becoming useful citizens. Slowly, perhaps without knowing it, we were being fitted to carry out our dual responsibilities to ourselves and to society. We prepared ourselves for college, for business, for industry. This preparation has ended.

We, the students of Brighton High School of the Class of 1961, look to the future. It is not for us to know completely what lies ahead. We have our doubts, our fears, our uncertainties. To say otherwise would be dishonest. What we do have is faith: faith in our God; faith in our way of life; and faith in the knowledge that we have been prepared to cope with this unknown, this future of ours.

Finally, a note of thanks, of sorrow, and of joy. Thanks to our parents for their sacrifices; to our teachers for their efforts. A note of sorrow, for it is difficult to leave a place so crowded with memories, to leave our friends. And a note of joy: we are happy, for we have reached a long sought goal, the result of twelve years' work. We are happy, for students no longer, we face the future as men and women.

EDITORS' MESSAGE

Fellow Classmates:

We take this opportunity to present to you—the Class of 1961—your yearbook, hoping that in the years to come, you will look back upon it with fond memories. We shall never forget you—the student body—who made this yearbook possible.

To Mr. Kelliher, Miss Gilman and Miss Pelletier, we extend our sincere appreciation for their assistance in assembling this yearbook, as well as to our very able faculty who have helped to prepare us for the future.

May you always remember the "Castle on the 'Hill'."

CLASS ORATION

Today is Class Day, the day when we, the members of the Class of 1961, look back over three long years of rewarding hard work at the Castle on the Hill. This day is not only one of great happiness but also one of sorrow. Today is a sad day for it means that we must soon leave our Castle on the Hill, our second home. It means, too, that we must part with our favorite teachers and close friends whom we have acquired in the friendly atmosphere of Brighton High School. Today is also a happy day in that graduation lies just ahead.

Graduation is the crossroad of our life when we, who have worked so hard for three long years, look ahead toward our chosen field of endeavor whether it be an institution of higher education, the armed forces, or the world of business. It is the time when we, the Class of 1961, must bid farewell and venture out into the cold hard world without the watchful eyes of our teachers to show us the right way when we are doing wrong. We can now remember only what our teachers have told us in order that we turn to the right way in life.

The world today presents us with a challenge, a challenge for good thinkers and hard workers to straighten out its tangled problems. This challenge must be met, and it must be met by us, the Class of 1961. Let us, therefore, choose our tools and choose them well; and let us proceed to right the wrongs of this troubled world so that it may be for us a better place in which to live.

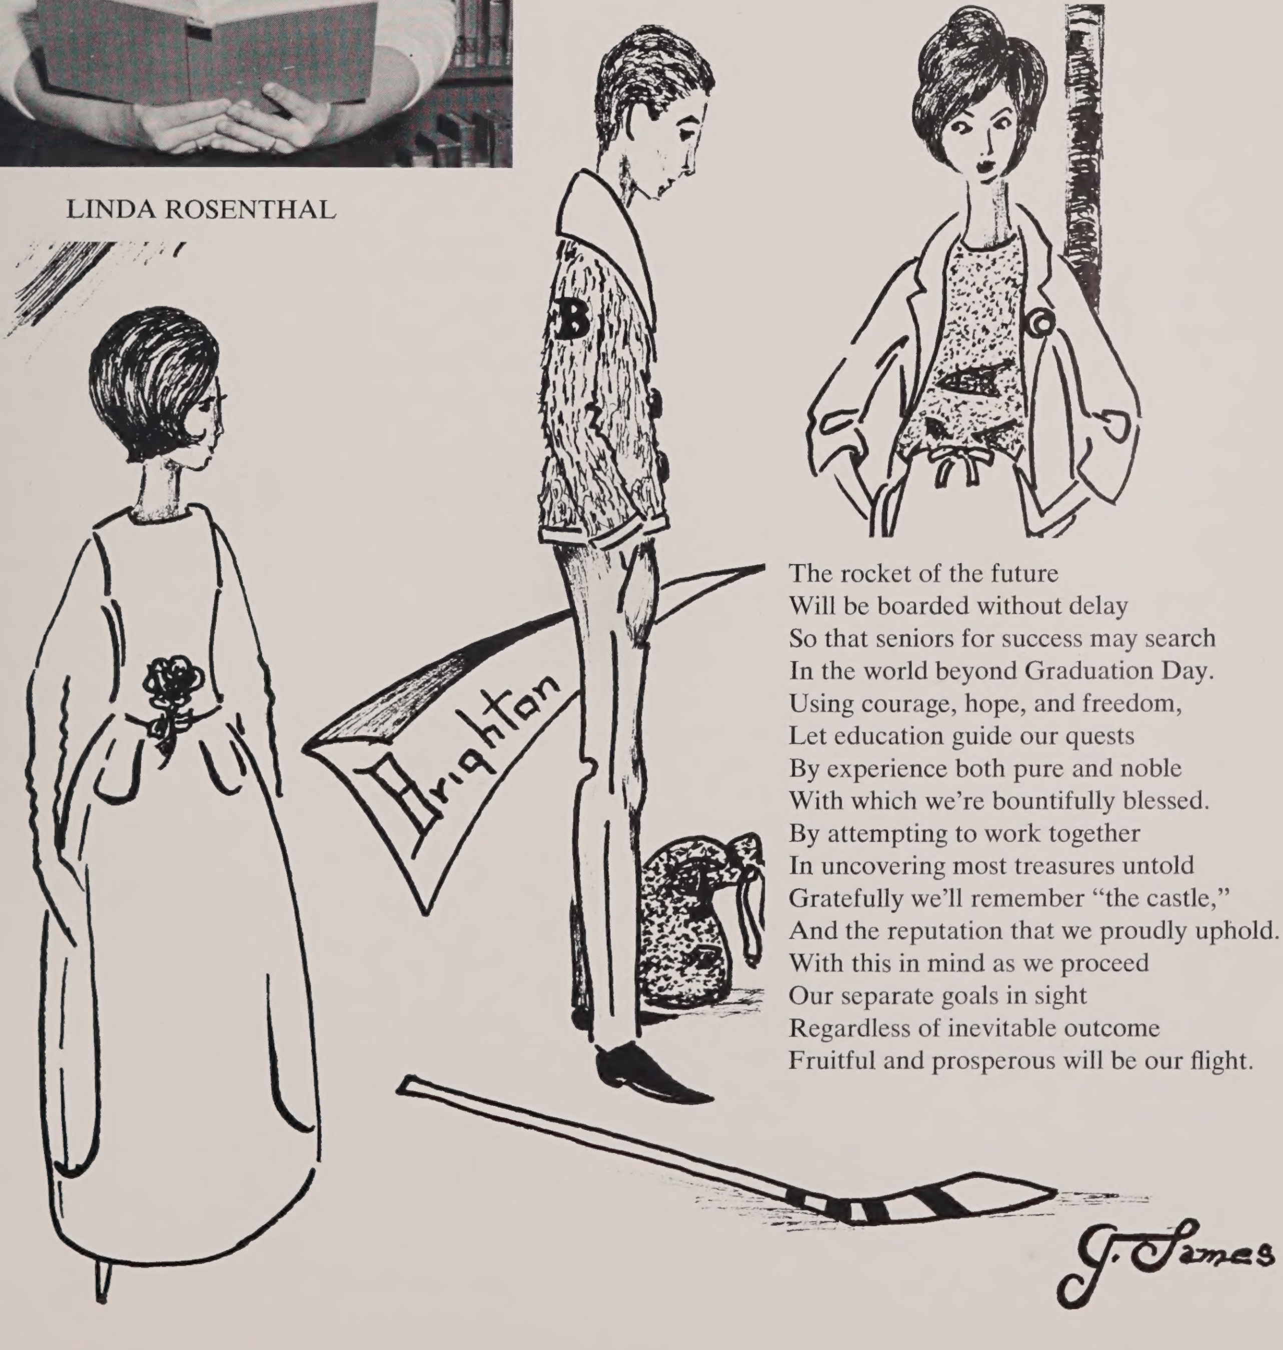
CLASS POEM



The rocket of the future
Will be boarded without delay
So that seniors for success may search
In the world beyond Graduation Day.
Using courage, hope, and freedom,
Let education guide our quests
By experience both pure and noble
With which we're bountifully blessed.
By attempting to work together
In uncovering most treasures untold
Gratefully we'll remember "the castle,"
And the reputation that we proudly uphold.
With this in mind as we proceed
Our separate goals in sight
Regardless of inevitable outcome
Fruitful and prosperous will be our flight.

CLASS HISTORY

Odd though it seems, time has flown by, and to most of us it appears to have been only yesterday when we entered "The Castle on the Hill" as frightened Sophomores, hoping to be accepted by the Seniors and Juniors, and amazed at the seemingly never-ending length of the corridors. Our desire was to maintain the past traditions and high standards of Brighton High.

Mr. McInerney welcomed us and offered his assistance to those who had problems, which built up our confidence and respect for both our new school and principal.

Teachers who were beginning their first year at our "Castle" were Miss McNamara, Miss Rustino, Miss Winterbottom, Mrs. Scheffler, Mr. Beninati, and Mr. Doherty. Self-assurance increased a little when we came to realize that they must be facing similar problems regarding surroundings and adjustments.

Becoming acquainted with extra curricular activities, we joined various school clubs which promoted interest in school functions and established better relationships between pupils and teachers. Meggie Plasis became President of the German Club.

The football season approached and we soon found ourselves attending the games after school in White Stadium. On November 25, we, as Sophomores, attended our first football rally after Thanksgiving Day exercises in the Assembly Hall.

In December we observed our annual Christmas Pageant and felt a warm glow at its beauty and significance. Later in the day, the pupils went across the street to the Kennedy Foundation and re-enacted the Christmas story for the children's benefit.

Winners of the Brighton High School Science Fair included Gin Gee Chin who developed a project on "Hives," and Irene Volante whose subject was "Wasps." Our school paper "The Towers" won the New England Scholastic Press Association Award, the highest achievement in scholastic editing and publishing.

At the close of our Sophomore year, our track team placed third in the Division III Championship, and Gloria Cocuzzo and Betty Jean Charbonnier were chosen as cheerleaders to represent us in our approaching Junior year.

September arrived once more and we found ourselves within Brighton walls as Juniors, one year nearer to attaining our goal as leaders of our school.

New faces appeared among our faculty in addition to our familiar ones; Miss Reardon, Mrs. Boyle, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Kraus, Mr. Bruno, Mr. Harrington, Mr. Masse, and Mr. Pearlmutter. Mr. Goulston left at the end of December and was replaced by Mr. Buck, our Commercial Dept. Head, while Mrs. McGrane joined our Science Dept. Mrs. Kraus left at the end of February to teach in Newton and Mr. Galvin, who had previously retired from B.H.S., returned and taught the Co-op boys.

Our football team had a fairly good record during the autumn season beating Jamaica Plain, Hyde Park, and Roslindale; losing to East Boston, Charlestown, and South Boston. In track, our cross country team had to be rebuilt since there were no returning lettermen, and due to the rugged training program, our team finished third. James Engermann became Invitational High Hurdles Gold Medal Winner.

With spring passing by, our school took the Noma Spelling Test and from our class, those able to achieve 100% were Natalie Sokoloff, Brenda Winkler, and John Mahoney. Other items of interest around Brighton were that Lorraine Bowen went to New York for an audition for the Rockettes and passed it successfully, while Beverly Houston not only won honorable mention in the Junior Scholastic Art Contest but also a baton scholarship to A&I College in Tennessee.

On May 25, we attended our last School Boy Parade and watched our boys do a good job with our school colors in competition for the final time. These yearly competitions were stopped because they were an extra city expense; and drill was dropped from the boys' curriculum. The same week we gathered outside Brighton's walls for Memorial Day exercises and the members of our faculty, who had served in the Armed Forces in the past wars, reviewed our cadets. Taps finished the program.

Our school paper again collected some outstanding awards including the Medalist Award at Columbia University, and first prize in both art and magazine make-up at the Boston Globe's High School Editors Conference. Two assemblies of this year that proved to be of an interest were the one in which Senator Caples came and spoke to us, and the day that we were visited by the Collinsville High School Band of Illinois. A number of us acquired new pen pals through their visit.

With the ending of the school year, the cheerleaders for the 60-61 season were elected; Gloria Cocuzzo, Capt.; Betty Jean Charbonnier, Co-capt.; Alison Bell, Lorraine Bowen, Sonia Haddad, Diane Laezza, Margaret Levitt, Ann Monahan, Sylvia Natsi, Marie Pacitto, Meggie Plasis, Ann Marie Russo, Sandra Salvucci, Antonina Trainor, and Cathy White.

Our last assembly included the naming of the team captains for the nearing Senior year, Track Capt. James Engermann; Cross Country Capt. Eugene Wolf; Football Capt. Dennis Hamelin; Co-capt. Alfred Pellegrini; Basketball Capt. Robert Garceau; Hockey Capt. Neil MacLean.

Our Junior year then came to a close but our best school year still lay ahead.

Summer passed all too rapidly for the majority of us and we entered Brighton's grounds starting our last year, the year we had all anticipated, for now we were Seniors!

Upon attending classes we found that a number of our teachers had retired including Miss Greene, Miss Holland, and Mr. Fitzgerald. Miss Marshall was out on a leave of absence; Mr. O'Keeffe was Head Master of East Boston High School and Mr. Walsh was now teaching at English High School. The new dept. heads were Miss Pelletier, Mr. Bergen, and Mr. Dailey. Other new additions were Miss Antreassian, Mrs. Levinson, Mrs. Perlowski, Mr. Ciccio, Mr. Messuri, and Mr. Sharkey.

Lorraine Levine became President of the Student Council. Barbara Dinerman became Editor-in-Chief of the Towers and received honorable mention in the Cub Reporter Contest sponsored by the Ford Motor Company and the Boston Sunday Advertiser. Our staff was headed by Nancy Jacobs, Sheila Kessler, Louise Mackie and Antonina Trainor.

The presidents of our clubs were selected as follows: Art Club, George James; Chemical-Biology Club, Gin Gee Chin; Current Events Club, Frank Anastas; French Club, Louise Mackie; Math.-Science Club, Eugene Wolf; Reading Club, Ina Randall.

As the football season began again, our cheerleader outfits were voted the best in the state. In our autumn games we came out with a 3-2-1 record which was a third place for the Knights. This year we defeated Hyde Park, Roslindale, Jamaica Plain, tied Dorchester; and lost to Charlestown, and East Boston. Representing B.H.S. in the Cross Country State Meet, our boys, led by Capt. Eugene Wolf's 13 minutes 46 seconds time, just missed placing. Our hockey team, led by the city's high scorer, Capt. Neil MacLean, had a very successful season while our basketball team had a favorable year also.

School days passed and Dennis Hamelin won our vote to represent Brighton High in Student Government Day. Anita Colbath won honorable mention and a Hammonds World Travelogue for our library, participating in a contest held by Current Events Magazine for writing a composition on the ten biggest events during 1960.

January elections started with Brighton's corridors filled with candidates and their promises. Everyone was wearing their candidates campaign cards and we all looked forward to the voting as it was going to be a tight election. When the counting of the ballots was checked and rechecked, these class members were elected; Alfred Pellegrini, President; Beverly Houston, Vice-President; Catherine McCarthy, Secretary; Patricia Ryan, Treasurer; Executive Committee, Paula Doherty, Jacqueline Greene, and Carol Johnson.

Our Course Representatives were; College Course, Louise Mackie; Business Education Course, Carol Harvey; Co-operative Course, James Mullen. Winner of the Thomas A. Scanlon Cup this year was Dennis Hamelin while the winners of the physical education awards were Ann Marie Russo and John Mahoney.

To prepare for our Class Day; Gin Gee Chin, Marianne Kelly, Meggie Plasis, Myrna Segal and Theda Turner were elected as Class Marshals. Our Class Motto became "Wherever there is a human being, there is an opportunity for a kindness." and we had no doubt in its true meaning and value during our lives.

As Class Day, the Prom, and Graduation draw near, we're sad knowing that we'll soon be leaving our school and the friends that we made during the past three years. But, as we progress into the future and our newly chosen vocations, we will always remember that we were fortunate to be the Class of Sixty-one.

Adele Liebovitz, Antonina Trainor, Miss O'Leary, Veronica Lambert.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1961, of Brighton High School in the County of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound mind (?) and memory, do hereby make, declare, and publish this, our last will and testament. We bequeath the following:

Gerald Goldman leaves to Miss Adams all his rolled up sleeves.

Alan Bender leaves to Mr. Dailey all his uncollected homelessons.

George Ahlin is leaving to Miss Antreassian all the homework papers that he just "happened to forget."

Julie Moscone leaves to the coming sophomores Miss Adams's spoonerisms.

Antonina Trainor leaves to Mr. Dailey the first words spoken to the girls in his homeroom, "All right, knock it off, boys. Oh! Excuse me young ladies."

Janet Henry and Marilyn Shulman leave to Mr. Casey a chrome-plated crank-shaft for his hot rod.

Kathleen Russell leaves the Sophomores, her history notes and notebooks. With good luck.

Gregory Georgelis leaves to Dr. Moore a sharpener that works.

Marguerite McInerney leaves to the forthcoming sophomores our teachers and our brains.

Laura Ferrier leaves to Mr. Barry a lot of scared sophomores.

Archibald Gillis leaves all the broken lockers to Mr. Casey.

Dennis Hamelin leaves B.H.S. a winning football team.

Melanie Swift leaves to the girls gym her uniform.

Amelia Becker leaves to Mr. Casey some little sophomores to join his "mountain climbing club" at 2:30.

Lillian Maness leaves to Miss Blagdon her gym bloomers which she won't be needing anymore.

Thomas Maclean leaves to B.H.S. a student parking lot.

Arlene Kozlowski leaves to all the teachers the memories of having taught the best senior class ever to have graduated from B.H.S.

Lee Akerstrom leaves all the teachers the memories of her presence in their school.

Jacqueline Greene leave to B.H.S. the fondest memories of three years which she has spent here and all her homelessons.

Leslie Hershenberg leaves to Dr. Moore her faithfulness, five times.

Sandra Linda leaves to Doctor Moore her wholehearted attention.

Roberta Kriedberg leaves to Miss Sullivan one used pass.

Stephen Cohen leaves to Miss Sullivan all the chalk dust that he had to clean up.

Claire Hilenski leaves to Dr. Moore an empty seat in the first row in HmA_3 to award to a future senior who works hard for it.

Leo Hughes leaves to Miss Adams a dozen pairs of golden cuff links.

Marilyn Mike leaves to B.H.S. her paintbrush and linoleum cutters.

Susan Somers leaves to all the sophomores all her school books.

Joan Small leaves to the lunchroom the largest box of salt possible and to the sophomores, good luck.

Frances Wiseman leaves to Mr. Casey a stick with a skeleton on it.

Diane Lane leaves to Mr. Murray all his independent and dependent clauses.

Alice Molloy leaves to Mr. Buck one student who is not absent once during the whole school year.

Carol MacDonald leaves to Miss Blagdon her Hi-Fi, and some good rock 'n' roll music for her dancing classes.

Penny Moore leaves her love to all the teachers that were lucky to have her.

Irene Herrin leaves to the future students her desk, and to Mr. Casey, the window she always looked out of in English.

Mary Doyle leaves the sophomores Mr. Casey's ice box room.

Carol Harvey leaves the future class of B.H.S. all the good luck in the world.

Beverly Houston leaves the girls' gym her bloomers.

Neil MacLean leaves to Mr. Bergen all his absent notes for the year.

Kathleen Perrier leaves the school all her assignments that she didn't do and also her gym suit to anyone who deserves it.

Ann Monahan leaves to Mr. Casey a book called "Hamlet."

William Mangan leaves to Brighton High a student parking lot.

Leonard Fabiano leaves to Mr. Sharkey all his car checks.

Mitchell E. Gonski leaves to Mr. Passeretti an electric pointer for the hall.

Gerald Berry leaves to Mr. Rantuccio one decent engine.

Joseph D. Dunne leaves to Mr. Ambrose a gold plated slide rule for his wall.

Robert Keiran leaves to Mr. McNamee a flat rate book.

David Armstrong leaves to all his teachers a picture of himself.

Gardner Coggins leaves to Mr. Ambrose a gold-plated ignition set.

Betty Jean Charbonnier leaves to the captains and cheerleaders her best wishes.

Lorraine Resnick leaves to Mr. Buck a homeroom class that will be in their seats by five minutes of nine.

Eileen McCabe leaves to Mr. Casey her Driver Ed. classes.

Sidney Goldenberg leaves to Miss Sullivan all those nickels.

Elaine J. Caton leaves to Mr. Wellings a complete hard working Physics class.

Meggie Plasis leaves to the sophomores and juniors all the old gym bloomers and sneakers in her locker.

Louise Martori leaves to next year's classes the three minutes in which to run from 318 to 201.

Sonia Haddad leaves the memory of the last football game which the cheerleaders will never forget.

Sandra Salvucci leaves to the next year's seniors her locker, her place for cheering, all her books so they can study, and her homeroom teacher.

Robert Pardy leaves to Brighton High School Co-op teachers his thanks for having patience with him.

Helen Bucelewicz leaves to B.H.S. an axe to fix all the typewriters with.

Juliana Bucell leaves to the teachers a ten year vacation to recuperate from the class of '61.

Anna Arena leaves to the future students of B.H.S. a cupful of luck with those wonderful typewriters.

Catherine McCarthy leaves to Mrs. Boyle a better class in merchandising for period three.

Carol Jacobs leaves to Mrs. Boyle more refined classes.

Adele Leibovitz leaves to Mr. Bergen one long playing record of "at ease."

Sylvia Natsi leaves to Mr. Kelliher Purdy's Photography Studio.

Ruth Mulvaney leaves to Mr. Casey all her gum.

Anita Colbath leaves to Mr. Kelliher her strained ear drums.

Geraldine Busby leaves to Mrs. Des Autels ambitious students from beginning to the end as she was in the end . . . Best Wishes.

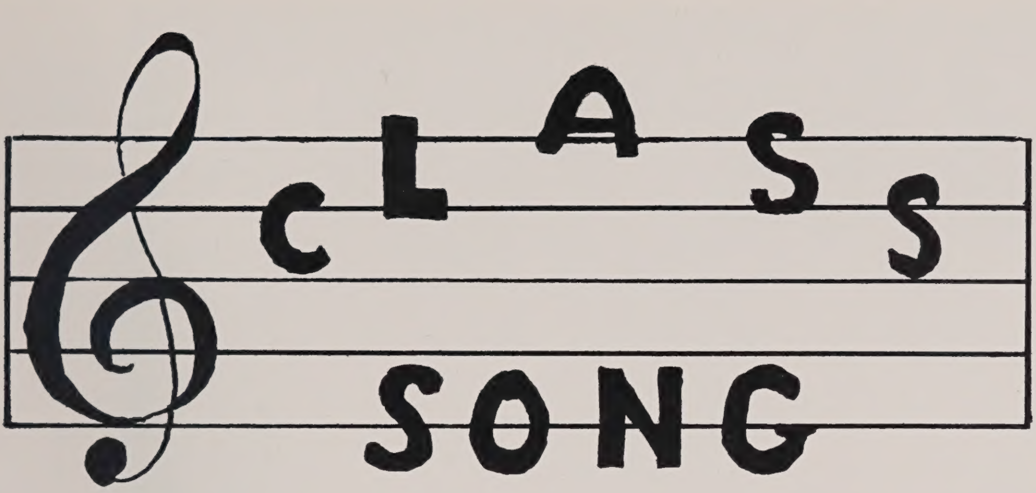
Peter Swift leaves to B.H.S., his senses which he has lost in the last three years.
Frank Farley leaves to Mr. McCabe his gym shorts.
Mary Martha Cusack leaves to Miss Reardon her gym clothes to be used in good health.



CLASS SONG

TO THE TUNE OF "GOD OF OUR FATHERS"

Three years that seemed to pass so quickly by
Have filled each wiser senior's mind and heart
With memories that will not quickly fade,
But linger and grow dearer when we part.

Three years ago we could not even guess
The work, the joys, the interests that we'd share,
But now that we have stored them in our hearts
They've satisfied the expectations there.

Thanks to enlightening wisdom we've acquired,
The future will fulfill our fondest dreams
That were within these hallowed halls acquired
And our success will be your due reward.

CLASS PROPHECY

Many years ago, on a cold winter's morning in 1961, during the home-room period, Mrs. Heywood asked our class if anyone would be interested in corresponding with a student in another country. I immediately responded, "Is there anyone from France?"

"Yes, Miss Jacqueline Bauvoir of Paris," replied Mrs. Heywood.

Ever since that day (twenty-five years ago) Jacqueline and I have kept up an active correspondence. Even though we have never met, we became the best of friends through our letters. And now, in 1986, the day has finally arrived when Jacqueline will visit our great land. (It's about time!) Flight 841 from Paris has just landed at Gate 12 at Logan Airport (after flying the Atlantic in a mere 15 minutes!!)

First to disembark are the three airline hostesses, Anne Marie Russo, Janice Parent, and Janet Nelson. They are part of a crack team, headed by James MacLaughlin, senior pilot. The hostesses are busy saying farewell to many distinguished passengers. Among them are the very successful businessmen, Frank Palladino, James Mullen, Roy J. Leone and Edward B. Lee. They are followed by the philanthropic millionaire, James Doherty, and the fabulously wealthy widow, Carol Kelly. Marcia Hurwitz, a buyer of foreign products for a well-known department store, follows the entomologist, Kevin McCarthy, down the ramp. Kevin is bringing to America many rare and wonderful wild bugs and insects which he originally caught on the planet Mars.

G. Saman

Pausing at the threshold of the plane to survey the scene below, the famous actress, Susan Howarth, makes her dramatic descent. Suddenly Jackie appears! I should have known her anywhere from her pictures. Apparently, she knew me too, for we rushed toward each other. Unfortunately, in her eagerness to greet me, Jackie stumbled on a step on the gang-plank, and fell forward—directly into the arms of Dr. Eugene Wolf. Happily, Jackie was unhurt, although she limped slightly. With his usual graciousness, Dr. Wolf offered us his cab, which he had kept waiting.

"Four twenty-four Warren Street, Brighton! Please hurry!" And the driver took us at our word. We were on our way in a flash. Jackie and I had so much to say to each other that we were completely startled when we heard a loud bang! Thump, thump! Heavens, a flat tire! Luckily, we were just passing an ultra-modern gas station owned by David Peterson, whose name we saw flashing in lights above the building. Mr. Peterson himself hurried forward and, while we waited for the tire to be fixed, showed us all around. We were happy to learn that only Brighton High Co-operative graduates are hired here. Because of their superior intelligence, training, and dependability, customers will be satisfied with no-one else. Mr. Peterson introduced us around. J. W. McCarthy, the carburetor specialist, was working under the hood of a car while James Engermann cleaned the windshield and Adam B. Cassell checked the oil. James Ellis and William Casey changed our flat tire while Joseph Moccia checked the other tires on our cab. A fleet of trucks owned by Mike Oxenhorn was also being serviced at the same time by Edward Lyons, Edward J. Murphy, Gerard Malone, Robert Alexander, and William Casey. Everything was done so rapidly and efficiently that we were ready to drive out of the station in less than ten minutes.

Everything had happened so fast that I had completely forgotten about lunch. As we passed through the shopping district, I asked the cab driver to stop at the "Stop and Shop" while I picked up a few things. The electronic-eye doors amazed Jackie. Steve Nathan, the supervisor of the store, greeted us most cordially, and we were soon on our way again. The cab had parked a short distance up the street, and as we walked toward it we passed that well-known restaurant, Joe and Nemo's. The tantalizing aroma from their original foods made me think of the many delicious meals I have eaten there. Waiting to be seated, were some old friends from Brighton High—Myrna Segal, Wilma Chase, Norman Wise, and Elizabeth Amirault. Eugenia Seldon, a legal secretary, waved to us through the window as she was eating her pumpkin pie. Along came a sailor, who sat down beside her, and frightened poor "pumpkin" away. Continuing on our little jaunt, we passed Lorraine Bowen's Dancing School. Three old friends, Glenda Green, Marion Newman, and Sheila Zelman, were about to enter the Dancing School. They are now principals of three local elementary schools, and were making arrangements for some of their pupils to take dancing lessons.

Our cab driver waited impatiently for us to proceed on our way. As we slowed for a traffic light, a newsboy thrust an "Extra" through the window. "Read all about it! First woman astronaut into space!" You can imagine my surprise when I saw Gloria Peters' picture on the front page! Yes, Gloria had achieved orbit around the sun. Good luck, Gloria! Turning the page, my eye caught the headline "Two-Car Collision following Reunion in Brighton." Quickly I read on. "Miraculously, no one was injured in a two-car collision last evening at Washington Street and Commonwealth Avenue. The occupants of the car driven by Charles Phillips, an electronics engineer, were returning home from a class reunion at Brighton High School. They were the famous artist, Cynthia Cohen; Barbara Bertsch, who conducts her own business; and Ken Dalton, Captain in the United States Navy. The occupants of the other car—John McCabe, Beverly Adams, and Edward Herson—had been attending a convention of accountants and bookkeepers in Hartford, Connecticut. Nurses Linda Cohen and Patricia Tocci on the staff at St. Elizabeth's Hospital were passing by, and offered their services to the injured. Happily, this was unnecessary. The cars, which were a total wreck, were towed away by the Salvaging Service owned and operated by Steven P. O'Neil and Jerald Peters."

Here we are—home at last!

This was the beginning of an exciting visit: Jackie has been urging me to spend my next vacation in Paris. Do you think it could possibly be as thrilling as hers has been so far?

A
OPENS UP
A BIG
ANY GIRL

When you graduate it's wonderful to have a telephone job waiting for you. You'll love the friendly new people you meet. And you'll like the excellent salary, the regular increases, the opportunities for advancement and the many additional benefits that make working for the Telephone Company so attractive to so many young people.

Telephone jobs are important ones. We have our own training program which you can enter without any previous job experience.

Why not come and see our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate. Ask the Guidance Counselor at your school to tell you when and where to apply.
